

HOUSE OF LOVE SUPPORTS

PETE WYLIE, Pere Ubu and The Rainbirds are among the acts lined up to support The House Of Love at their ICA concerts this week. It has not yet been confirmed which bands will be supporting on which night, but other acts include Was Not Was, who will be teaming up with Pere Ubu, The Lilac Time, Heidi Berry and Primal Scream. According to the band's PR Jeff Barrett there is a possibility that the former Only Ones singer Peter Perrett will be appearing.

Meanwhile, the release date of The Only Ones' new live LP, "Why Don't You Kill Yourself?", has been put back until June 19. A spokesman for the record company Mau Mau said there were "a couple of things getting in the way," and that the LP had been held up while a few "legalities are sorted out."

It's understood that the band owed a lot of money to the taxman when they split up in 1983 and any new product under the name The Only Ones could make the remaining members liable to heavy taxation. The spokesman added hopefully, "it should be alright."
